Technical conditions

- the competition is held in accordance with V-PARA-1 and the FAI Sporting Code
- each competitor will present a parachutist health card, parachute documents, including insurance, for inspection at registration
- A + B parachutists must have an instructor with them
- competitive jumps will be made from AN-2 aircraft, height 800 – 1 100m depending on cloud height
- jumps will be made to wind strength 7m/sec.
- team leaders are responsible for the complete equipment of their team members

- jumps will be performed on foam landing pad, measuring accuracy up to 1 meter by hand, up to 16 cm AMP (size of the centre is 2 cm)

Sports disciplines

- landing accuracy of four-member teams, 3 results are counted in the results of each team, the worst in that round is crossed out,
- individual landing accuracy - all jumps from completed rounds are counted
- the competition consists of 6 full rounds + semi-final where 50% of the starting field advances + final - 25% of the starting field progresses. In the semi-finals and finals, the order of jumps is from the worst to the best result of the parachutists. The competition can be closed after 3 rounds. The organizer reserves the right to cancel the semi-final and final rounds depending on the length of time of the competition.

Determining the winners and category

- the winner in the team competition is the team with the smallest sum of centimetres, in the case of a match with a higher number of zeros, then the team with a higher number of better results
- the winner in the individual competition is the parachutist with the smallest sum of centimetres, in the case of the same sum, the greater number of zeros is decisive, in the case of other discrepancies, then the greater number of better results. In the event of a further agreement, they will be placed in the same place on the score sheet. For the first three individuals, the organizer may first use two jumps.
- the winners in each category will be evaluated if there are more than 4 athletes in that category
- the winners of the team, individual and category competition will be awarded with a diploma and a plaque

Protests

- the protest must be filed within 30 minutes of the event giving rise to the protest by the team captain referring to the article in the FAI Sporting Code
 - the protest is filed with a fee of 500 CZK to the competition director or the main referee; in case the protest is rejected, the fee is forfeited
 - the competition director (without voting rights) presides over the jury consisting of the captains of the odd teams, except for the team captain involved in the protest. The vote on the protest is secret, the decision on the protest is given by a simple majority (in case of a tie the protest is rejected)
